

A woman's love

By Ramona Powell

There is nothing like the love of a woman
When she loves
she gives it her all She covers you
in the warmth of her bosom Her heart expands
to encompass all your needs

She embraces you
with a nurturing embrace that reminds you
of a mother's touch Her kisses are soft soothing and sensual
Her touch is warm
and penetrating

She whispers a prayer for the ones she loves Never concerned
about herself
but for the ones
she loves

There is power
in her words
there is power
in her touch
there is power
in her embrace

There is power
in her love
